Episcopal Church Home Opens New Personal Care Building

The Lyndon House is now open for those seeking assistance with daily living needs in a luxurious and open setting.

[Cincinnati, Ohio – January 10, 2023] – Episcopal Retirement Services has announced that Episcopal Church Home (ECH), a premier retirement community located in Louisville, Kentucky, recently opened its newest building called Lyndon House, as part of its $20 million Master Plan renovation that was initially announced in February of 2020. The Master Plan also includes the addition of new independent living patio homes that will see move-ins starting this month. ECH is in the home stretch of completing 25 new independent living patio homes.

Lyndon House provides residents with the highest quality of life possible in a safe, fun, and enriching environment. ECH offers various levels of care within the personal care household, which is designed to provide the best value for residents. There are options for those who may only need intermittent support, and there are additional services for those needing more help with their daily routines or health needs.

Additionally, there is a mix of one-bedroom, alcoves, and studio apartments of various sizes to choose from. Residents will be able to enjoy open and luxurious dining and life-enrichment spaces or can relax on the wonderful outdoor patio and seating areas that overlook a new amenity garden.

“We are thrilled to open the Lyndon House to new residents from the greater Louisville community,” said Laura Lamb, President and CEO of ERS, “Since the beginning, we saw the development of our Master Plan as an opportunity to meet the changing lifestyle and healthcare needs of our current and future residents. We are confident that our residents will enjoy this beautiful, luxurious setting along with the person-centered care approach that ensures that residents live life with the care and dignity they deserve in a place that truly is home.”
