Kling Chamber Orchestra Spreads Holiday Cheer with "Holiday Strings in the Chapel"

In a heartwarming celebration of the season, the Kling Chamber Orchestra entertained over 100 attendees at the "Holiday Strings in the Chapel" concert held at St. Luke's Chapel on Monday, December 18, at 2 p.m. The Kling Chamber Orchestra is an all-volunteer orchestra that has entertained the Louisville community for decades.

Residents from Dudley Square, Lyndon House, Morton House, and the wider Louisville community gathered to experience a magical hour-long performance, featuring a repertoire of beautiful and familiar holiday classics. The festive atmosphere was palpable as the orchestra skillfully delivered a selection of tunes that embodied the spirit of the season.

The concert reached its peak when a special guest made a surprise appearance—none other than Santa Claus himself. The jolly old man brought smiles and laughter to everyone, spreading holiday joy throughout the chapel. The unexpected visit added an extra layer of magic to the already enchanting event, creating lasting memories for all in attendance.

Following the concert, the festivities continued in the breezeway, where everyone was treated to a delightful array of refreshments. The post-concert gathering provided an opportunity for concertgoers to mingle, share their favorite moments from the performance, and catch up with friends.

The event served as a testament to the power of music. Holiday cheer was palpable in the air even as the guests departed.
