All Settled In

Moving day has come and gone. We are happy to report, all went very well. The Shaw Building is beautiful and the staff has exceeded our expectations.

We always knew Lee Gardens would be easier to move. Residents are short term and have few belongings. This was scheduled as a two day move. We got started in the morning and by 11:00 am the half we expected to move were settled in. We all looked at each other and asked, "Why not?" and just like that by the end of just one day, all Lee Gardens residents were moved into the new apartments.

We took a deep breath and a couple of days to reflect on our move. Monday rolled around and we got started again. This day we planned to move seven Amstein residents. There was no reason to think Tuesday would be different, until there was a knock at the door. "Good morning, we are with the Ohio Department of Health and are here for your annual survey for both skilled nursing and residential care." For just a brief moment we considered delaying the rest of the moves. We quickly said, "We've got this" and kept going. Now our residents have a beautiful place to call home.

The moves continued with great success and our surveys resulted in only minor recommendations that were nearly all paper compliance. Our staff did an incredible job juggling both of these big tasks at once. It is a true testament to their unwavering professionalism and devotion to our mission.
