Dear Friends,

2017 has been a significant year in the life of Episcopal Retirement Services (ERS). In many respects, it has been a transitional year that reflects how we work together to manage change that is present in our industry as well as in our community.

For the older adults that we serve and their families, we've been making a positive difference in their lives for over 66 years. Additionally, we have been engaged and involved in the broader community to benefit the common good for more than six decades. It is our impact on the community and the field of aging services that has positioned us as leaders who ignite opportunities for further growth and development as an organization.

Our notable accomplishments for 2017 include:

- Marjorie P. Lee Master Plan: Completion of the first two phases was marked with the opening of Kirby and Morris Memory Care Households.
- Successful Transition: Continued to merge two storied organizations, Episcopal Church Home and ERS into one strong family.
- Affordable Living by ERS: Opened 109 new apartments in Cincinnati, and was awarded Low Income Housing Tax Credits for two additional communities.
- Dementia-Inclusive Cincinnati: Organized regional community partners and launched the initiative, starting with the Kennedy Heights neighborhood to support the caregivers of those living with Alzheimer's or dementia.
- Milestones for Community-based Services: Deupree Meals On Wheels breaks its own record of delivering 100,000 meals, and Parish Health Ministry celebrates its 20th Year.

We also spent valuable time this year defining our culture. We often refer to our culture as the "secret sauce." My commitment to ERS in my first year as CEO was to hold close what makes us special during a period of transition and growth. Residents, staff, families, and board members rolled up their sleeves to consider, and ultimately, re-energize our Values and articulate our Ways of Working. If you would like a copy of our new Values and Ways of Working, please call the Support Services Office at 513-271-9610. Visit episcopalretirement.com/values to view or download a copy.

2017 was an influential year for ERS. Our commitment to you, and to those we serve, is that we will continue to address the broader community's needs and advocate for the highest level of aging services and quality of life for older adults in Ohio, Kentucky, and Indiana. Thank you for your continued commitment to travel on this journey with us.

Sincerely,

Laura R. P. Lamb, President & CEO

ECH Promise Fund and ERS Good Samaritan Mission Fund

Supporting life-enriching ministry

The ministry of Episcopal Retirement Services (ERS) was established by the generosity and compassion of those who believe that the elderly deserve to age in a caring environment, where dignity and freedom of choice are key, and where they can fully enjoy meaningful lives during their later years. Since the 1950s, philanthropists in the spirit of Charles and Marjorie P. Lee, have contributed time, talent and treasure to ensure ERS remains a leader in meeting the evolving needs of older adults representing a wide range of demographics. This legacy of charitable giving and servant leadership continues today through The Good Samaritan that are provided to ERS residents, staff, and individuals throughout the community.

ECH in Louisville, Kentucky joined the ERS family in 2016. Founded in 1881, they have earned a reputation for quality, charity, and ministry including financial support for residents who outlive their savings, providing them with peace of mind knowing they will always have a home at ECH.

In 2017, $2.9 million in expenses was subsidized by ERS as a result of philanthropic contributions in 10 areas of ministry spending.

Dementia-Inclusive Cincinnati

The Caring Places' Sharifah Tafari, ERS' Ronda Avant, and community volunteer Betsy Mann represent the group of advocates who connected in 2017 and launched an effort to empower the neighborhoods in Cincinnati to become "dementia-inclusive."

community

Mission quite possible

A public/private partnership led by city leaders, neighbors, and friends seeks to gain acceptance for all people living with Alzheimer's or dementia.

The Dementia-Inclusive Cincinnati team, launched early in 2017 at the offices of ERS, meets regularly and includes representatives from the following organizations who have joined with ERS: Kennedy Heights Development Corp and Community Council, Alzheimer's Association - Greater Cincinnati Chapter, Cincinnati City Councilman David Mann and Betsy Mann, Cincinnati City Councilman P.G. Sittenfeld, and Chief Advocacy Officer for Aging and Accessibility at the City of Cincinnati Jon Lawniczak.

Representing family members of older adults who are living with Alzheimer's are Vistage Chair

Joseph Faessler, and Assistant Professor at the University of Cincinnati Tom Mobley.

Through this initiative we share with the broader community our passion for serving elders, and we support them, their families, and caregivers as they age in place.

"It's no accident that this initiative starts in Kennedy Heights," said Steve Grieser, chair of the Aging-In-Community Team at the Kennedy Heights Development Corp. (KHDC). "We are proud that we remain a community represented by every age, race and ethnicity. Kennedy Heights is the perfect place to start."

Way to ‘Bee Healthy’

‘Bee Healthy’ has helped residents at Affordable Living by ERS senior apartment communities to significantly improve their overall health.

The ‘Bee Healthy Wellness Program’ is an interprofessional collaborative practice started at St. Paul Village in 2015 serving 168 Affordable Living residents. The program expanded to serve an additional 95 residents across our Cincinnati communities with the goal of reaching a total of 632 residents.

To date, approximately 55% of the residents have voluntarily chosen to participate in the program at the communities.

Through the collaborative initiative between ERS, Xavier University and Home Care by Blackstone the residents are provided with blood pressure clinics, coordinated care transitions and a variety of wellness opportunities including group exercise activities and monthly health talks.

This person-centered program focuses on the strengths of each person and encourages commitment to the resident’s successes.

Residents can earn ‘Bee Bucks’ for participating in the wellness activities, which they then spend to purchase items.

Volunteers are screened to identify if they are at risk for health deterioration. In addition, their knowledge, skill and confidence for managing one’s own health and healthcare are assessed.

Stayin' Healthy by preventing falls

Through community partnerships we will reduce the number of falls, and their consequences. Falls are not an inevitable result of aging.

When Parish Health Ministry (PHM) launched its Fall Prevention education program called Stayin' Healthy, their goal was to enhance lives through partner churches, community organizations and Affordable Living communities.

Preventing falls is an easy way to do that, made even easier thanks to the resource guide they developed that provides the framework for delivering the program.

PHM is empowered and responsible to provide excellent programs and services to partner organizations and they demonstrate enjoyment, enthusiasm, and passion for our mission.

"We want to meet the needs of our parishioners," says Walda Helvie, of Gloria Dei. They offered the fall prevention program to 23 attendees.

St. James of the Valley Health Cabinet also offered the program last fall, attracting 24 people.

They targeted seniors age 60+, including those who might be physically fit. Physical therapist Andy Beardslee facilitated the program at St. James and believes fear of falling can be debilitating. He says sometimes people just need to be reminded of simple things they can do to prevent falls and the loss of independence fall-related injuries can cause.

117 Volunteers donated 3,550 hours of service at ECH

The 'Sock-it-to-me' Sock Drive was a huge success. The Life Enrichment Team celebrated surpassing the goal in August.

Help, hope and healing

ECH Staff members teamed up with residents and family members to collect donations and give aid to clients at The Healing Place.

There's an epidemic of kindness at the Episcopal Church Home (ECH) in Louisville. The caring is contagious and it can't be contained. There is so much more than an average day in the life at a retirement community happening here. We see our ministry as an expression of God's love in the world for all people.

We are driven from the heart which is expressed through selfless service to not only each other but also to others in our broader community who need our care and support.

ECH staff members started a campaign of gathering donations of socks and coats for the clients at The Healing Place and ECH residents and family members joined right in with them.

The Healing Place provides food, shelter, clothing, and a recovery program to 600 men and women each year.

There is no cost to the client. They want there to be no barriers to recovery, it's free to any person with the desire to get sober. Their mission inspired our community to help.

Delivering meals and smiles

Every Tuesday through Friday, Deupree Meals On Wheels staff and volunteers prepare and deliver nutritious lunches to 400 area seniors.

Through Deupree Meals On Wheels, ERS provides older adults something they need to age in place, warm meals delivered to their homes.

More than 400 meals are delivered each day to provide the crucial contact for the elders to complement family support.

Jean, a Meals On Wheels client and Joe Bischoff a dedicated volunteer driver are neighbors in Loveland and they've gotten to know each other through weekly visits.

"We talk about my family and his; it has been nice to get to know him and I look forward to his visits. I'm here by myself which can be lonely."

We invest the time to listen to each client, and accept that each senior we serve has unique wants and needs.

"We cater to their preferences and dietary needs. We prepare personalized meals for many of our clients. They have a choice of receiving either hot or frozen meals, and our volunteers go above and beyond to ensure the overall wellbeing of those we serve," said Sue Susskind.
